

New Mexico Partnership Spaceport America Cup Coverage Report Sample Media Outreach

yahoo/finance Search for news, symbols or companies

Australia Wins Big At Spaceport America Cup

Garrity PR
July 18, 2022 - 5 min read

Nearly 20 Aerospace Companies Participate in event which included a Big Announcement from Sierra Space

TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES, NM / ACCESSWIRE / July 18, 2022 / The global aerospace community focused on New Mexico as 149 teams from around participated in the Spaceport America Cup, the world's largest intercollegiate rocket engineering conference and competition. The University of Sydney took home the top prize and as 1,500 students from 22 countries gathered in southern New Mexico to launch rockets to specific altitudes (10,000, 20,000, 30,000 feet).

Garrity PR, Monday, July 18, 2022, Press release picture

The Spaceport America Cup also included an announcement from Sierra Space. At the event, the company said it will work with Spaceport America in New Mexico to use that commercial spaceport as a potential future landing site for the company's Dream Chaser vehicle. The company joins Virgin Galactic which (according to news reporters) plans to eventually conduct 400 suborbital tourism and research flights annually from Spaceport America.

Good Morning El Paso – LINK TO ARTICLE

WKBN – LINK TO ARTICLE

Yahoo! Finance – LINK TO ARTICLE

PENTICTON HERALD

HOME NEWS SPORTS BUSINESS NEWS ENTERTAINMENT LIFE OPINION CLASSIFIED

TICKER SYMBOL OR COMPANY NA GET QUOTE Recent Quotes My Watchlist Indicators

Markets Stocks ETFs Tools

Overview News Currencies International Treasuries

Australia Wins Big At Spaceport America Cup

By Garrity PR via AccessWire July 18, 2022 at 10:00 PM EDT

Nearly 20 Aerospace Companies Participate in event which included a Big Announcement from Sierra Space

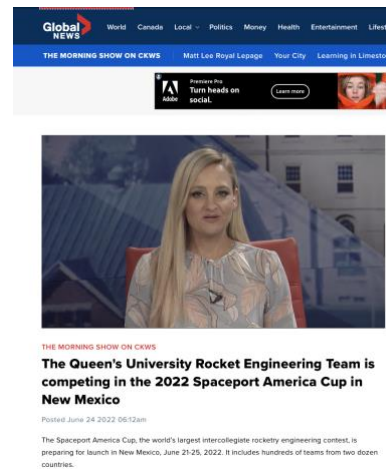

TRUTH OR CONSEQUENCES, NM / ACCESSWIRE / July 18, 2022 / The global aerospace community focused on New Mexico as 149 teams from around participated in the Spaceport America Cup, the world's largest intercollegiate rocket engineering conference and competition. The University of Sydney took home the top prize and as 1,500 students from 22 countries gathered in southern New Mexico to launch rockets to specific altitudes (10,000, 20,000, 30,000 feet).

The Spaceport America Cup also included an announcement from Sierra Space. At the event, the company said it will work with Spaceport America in New Mexico to use that commercial spaceport as a potential future landing site for the company's Dream Chaser vehicle. The company joins Virgin Galactic which (according to news reporters) plans to eventually conduct 400 suborbital tourism and research flights annually from Spaceport America.

The top aerospace companies participated in the event. They include Sierra Space, Virgin Galactic, Blue Origin, Florin, NASA Spaceflight, Kansas City National Security Campus and more.

Pentiction Herald – LINK TO ARTICLE

Global NEWS World Canada Local Politics Money Health Entertainment Lifestyle

THE MORNING SHOW ON CKWS Matt Lee Royal LePage Your City Learning in Limestone

Turn heads on social. Learn more

THE MORNING SHOW ON CKWS

The Queen's University Rocket Engineering Team is competing in the 2022 Spaceport America Cup in New Mexico

Posted June 24 2022 06:12am

The Spaceport America Cup, the world's largest intercollegiate rocketry engineering contest, is preparing for launch in New Mexico, June 21-25, 2022. It includes hundreds of teams from two dozen countries.

Global News – LINK TO ARTICLE